Evangelisation "to bring good news to others".

Today is Pentecost Sunday, the day that commemorates the descent of the Holy Spirit on the Apostles following the Crucifixion, Resurrection, and Ascension of Jesus. We hear Jesus make a promise in our Gospel. The Advocate, The Holy Spirit whom the Father will send in my name, will teach you everything. This promise was fulfilled on Pentecost.

The key goal of the Holy Spirit became evident immediately. Christian evangelisation began. The First reading tells us we hear them preaching in our own language about the marvels of God. Further on in the Acts of the Apostles, we learn "about three thousand were added to the believers" on that Pentecost day. There are now in excess of 2 Billion Christians worldwide - 1.3 Billion baptised Catholics. The unstoppable Christian message has been a force in the World for two thousand years since that fateful first Pentecost.

While Christianity in Ireland and throughout most of Europe is in retreat to the margins of society, evangelisation continues elsewhere through the action of the Holy Spirit.

We too have a role in this work of evangelisation. Through the sacrament of confirmation we pass on the gift of the Holy Spirit to the next generation of Christians. We bring good news to the people in our lives.

Our prayer today is one of thanksgiving for the great gift of the Holy Spirit in our Christian Church. We also pray that we can continue the difficult evangelisation work started on that first Pentecost Day.
