21st Sunday in Ordinary Time

Our Western society is dominated by a sense of confidence . We can find solutions for every problem. We can continually expand our economies, and improve our living standards. We see ourselves as powerful. Fueling this confidence are the incredible Scientific advances of the last 50 years.

“I do not believe in a personal God. If something is in me which can be called religious then it is the unbounded admiration for the structure of the world so far as our science can reveal it. Albert Einstein

This sense of confidence may also explain the decline in all religions in the affluent Western world over the last 50 years. Our readings today contradict this philosophy of confidence..

God the All powerful

In the Second reading Saint Paul tells us God is supreme. We will never understand Him. “How rich are the depths of God and how impossible to penetrate his motives or understand his methods!” We have little to offer God. “ Who could ever give him anything or lend him anything?”

God on earth - Jesus The Messiah

This God Saint Paul proclaims came to earth . Saint Peter says in the Gospel he believes this when he says to Jesus. ‘You are the Christ, the Son of the living God.’ In response, Jesus tells Peter “You are Peter and on this rock I will build my Church.” Peter, this damaged, vulnerable and weak man is told “I will give you the keys of the kingdom of heaven:” Peter’s Church becomes a reflection of its first Shepherd. damaged, vulnerable and weak too.

Church holds the Keys

Yet, through the Church - its sacraments, its teachings and the Holy Spirit at work in it - we can gain eternal life. Peter’s Church “holds the keys of the kingdom of heaven” and will survive attacks from evil - And the gates of the underworld can never hold out against it.

Vincent Crowley Deacon.
