Pope Francis . Adapted from the opening message of the Synod.

The blessing and welcoming gaze of Jesus prevents us from falling into some dangerous temptations: of being a rigid church, which arms itself against the world and looks backward; of being a lukewarm church, which surrenders to the fashions of the world; of being a tired church, turned in on itself.

This is the primary task of the synod: to refocus our gaze on God, to be a church that looks mercifully at humanity. is united and fraternal, listens and dialogues; blesses and encourages, helps those who seek the Lord, stirs up the indifferent, opens paths in order to draw people into the beauty of faith. A church that has God at its centre and, therefore, is not divided internally and is never harsh externally. The synod serves to remind us of this: our Mother the Church is always in need of purification, of being 'repaired,' for we are a people made up of forgiven sinners, always in need of returning to the source that is Jesus and putting ourselves back on the paths of the Spirit to reach everyone with his Gospel.”.
